TAYLOR: Honest answer.

JAMIE: I thought honesty might work.

TAYLOR: It's refreshing. What experience do you have?

JAMIE: I once organised my entire sock drawer by colour.

TAYLOR: That's... impressive.

JAMIE: And I helped my neighbour carry groceries.

TAYLOR: Anything else?

JAMIE: I survived group projects at school.

TAYLOR: That might actually be the best qualification.

JAMIE: It required patience, teamwork, and resisting the urge to scream.

TAYLOR: Good skills for this job.

JAMIE: Really?

TAYLOR: No. But I admire the confidence.

SAM: Why suspicious?

RILEY: Because the only person sitting next to you was me.

SAM: Are you saying you took it?

RILEY: I'm saying the evidence looks bad.

SAM: Check your pockets.

RILEY: Why would it be in my pockets?

SAM: Because you might have taken it.

RILEY: Or maybe you dropped it.

SAM: I didn't drop it.

RILEY: Then where is it?

SAM: Wait...

RILEY: What?

SAM: I'm sitting on it.

3. The Big Plan

Characters: Alex (excited), Morgan (skeptical)

Setting: After school.

ALEX: I've got the perfect plan.

MORGAN: Every time you say that, something goes wrong.

ALEX: The volcano was supposed to explode.

MORGAN: Not all over the teacher's desk.

ALEX: Anyway, listen to my new idea.

MORGAN: I'm already nervous.

ALEX: We start a business.

MORGAN: Doing what?

ALEX: Homework help.

MORGAN: You struggle with homework.

ALEX: That's why it's perfect.

MORGAN: Explain that logic.

ALEX: We help people... find the answers online.

MORGAN: That's not helping.

ALEX: It's efficient.

MORGAN: It's cheating.

ALEX: Fine. Plan B.

MORGAN: I'm scared to ask.

ALEX: We sell snacks.

MORGAN: That might actually work.

ALEX: See? Genius.
